

NEW HAIR

If you had a choice and you can only have one styling tool, pick the big curling iron. Big, sexy, bouncy waves can turn any ordinary look to sexy and sophisticated. For sure you have noticed the Victoria's Secret model's waves—who does not want that? It can be achieved with a little help from your good old curling iron. First, make sure you dry and smoothen your hair with a blow dryer then divide hair into sections (remember that you get better results if your sections are not too thick). Wrap each section one at a time around your curling iron and let the heat set it up. Finish with a little bit of volumizing hairspray or volumizing powder (see love Oribe Dust It Mattifying Powder) and just rake your fingers through your hair for that tousled-sexy-I-didn't-fix-my-hair kind of appeal all day.
